In regard to your exercise of free speech. You should lose your kid and your freedom, minimum for what you did. You should lose more than that

Mrs Republidiot,

Imagine shutting all of your comments off on tik tok because you're such a bigot and a liar who can't face the real world. If you were as big and tough as the character you portray on social media, then maybe they never would've been shut off. Considering you can't listen to or handle the real truth in the REAL world, I hope justice can shine a light on it for you.

It'll be pretty hard to home school your kid from Jail which is where I hope you go after the crimes you've committed :)

This counts as free speech. Your's should be revoked however considering it's all backed with false fear, intimidation and lies.

Be more of a role model to your kid.

Have a shit life

Thanks, A Liberal

I was just wondering considering that there's multiple videos of literally you guys doing exactly what is being described in the lawsuit including voter suppression after you went after the bus I just want to know what are you going to do when the video evidence is presented?

Also why is it that you're so keen on voter suppression and literally acts of terrorism nearly running the bus off the road on camera but it's the exact thing you claim the opposite political party is doing I was just wondering why you're such a hypocrite

Also do your children know that you act this way do your children know that you don't really believe in the consequences of your actions because that's a really s***** way to raise a child and frankly you probably shouldn't have them in that case but if you lose this lawsuit it does open up for criminal charges so hopefully they'll get taken away

You are a domestic terrorist, not a Christian. You intimidated those people and you belong in jail. Here's hoping they throw the book at you and karma gives you what you deserve. I don't think you're going where you think you're going in the after life. You're a Christian Nationalist. There is a HUGE difference between that and a true Christian who loves all their fellow man. Have the day you deserve terrorist.

Assaulting someone isn't freedom of speech.

If running a targeted bus off a road maliciously is free speech then might as well make murder free speech as well. You are disgusting and a disgrace. We all hope you lose your lawsuit and realize actions have consequences.
